

Moritz Meyer-ter-Vehn

Assistant Professor of Economics
Department of Economics, UCLA, Box 951477, CA 90095-1477
e-mail: mtv@econ.ucla.edu, Telephone: +1 310 206 8380

Academic Positions:

Assistant Professor of Economics, UCLA, 2007 – current
Visiting Scholar, Stanford University, 2002 – 2003

Private Sector Employment:

Market Strategy Expert, SAP AG, 2005 – 2007
Associate Consultant, McKinsey Germany, 2003 – 2005

Education:

Dr. rer. pol. (~Ph.D.), Economics, University of Bonn, October 2003
Diplom (~M.Sc.), Mathematics, University of Freiburg, July 2000
Maîtrise (~B.A.), Mathematics, University Paris VII, June 1998

Publications in Refereed Journals:

Ex-Post Implementation and Preference Aggregation via Potentials, with P. Jehiel and B. Moldovanu, forthcoming Economic Theory
Posterior Implementation vs. Ex-Post Implementation, with P. Jehiel, B. Moldovanu and W. Zame Economics Letters 97, 70-73 (October 2007)
Mixed Bundling Auctions, with P. Jehiel and B. Moldovanu, Journal of Economic Theory 134, 494-512 (May 2007)
The Limits of Ex-Post Implementation, with P. Jehiel, B. Moldovanu and W. Zame, Econometrica 74, 585-611, (May 2006)

Work in Progress:

We can't argue forever, with K. Bognar and L. Smith
Mechanism Design with Costly Participation, with K. Bognar and T. Börgers

Teaching:

Auction Theory (graduate) since 2007
Game Theory (undergraduate) since 2007

Invited Seminar and Conference Presentations:

2007: Midwestern Theory Conference; USC - 2005: EEA; 2004 ESEM - 2003 Socialpolitik Jahrestagung; ESEM - 2002: ESEM; Electronic Market Design - Dagstuhl; Spring Meeting for Young Economists; ENTER Jamboree

Personal Information:

Languages: English (fluent), German (native), French (proficient)
Citizenship: German and US American

Last updated : November 2007